Which means the archive worked.

This is not a conspiracy theory.
It is not speculation.
It is not a collection of allegations.

It is 3,643 government documents — written by the agencies themselves — arranged in chronological order, cross-referenced, AI-verified, blockchain-sealed, and submitted to international tribunals.

The unusual thing is not the story. The unusual thing is that the story is this thoroughly documented.

If it were fabricated, someone would have said so in a court of law. Nobody has.

The archive has one question for you: Why?
